Oyama's Guns Are In A Position To Do Damage To The Enemy's Center Today.

MIKADO'S ARMY IS SPREAD OUT

Tactics Employed Indicate A Repetition Of The Enveloping Movement That Captured Mukden.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
St. Petersburg, April 1.—The Japanese advance upon the Russian positions has progressed so rapidly that the enemy's guns are able to bombard Linovitch's center.
The attacks on the Russian rear guard, commanded by Gen. Mischenko, are assuming serious proportions. Mischenko may have to fall back.
The main Japanese army undoubtedly is advancing to the attack. Oyama's right and left wings are extended far to the eastward and westward, the Japanese right menacing Kirin and the left moving to intercept Russian retreat north of Gunshu pass.
Plan Enveloping Movement.
The Japanese left, it is feared, is advancing by forced marches to reach the Sungari river with a view to enveloping the Russian position.
A dispatch from Gen. Linovitch, dated March 30, says:
"There is no change in the situation. The enemy is displaying activity east of the railroad."
"Heavy snow fell during the night."
A telegram from Gunshu pass says, Gen. Linovitch has forbidden the inhabitants of Harbin, with the exception of the women and children, to leave that place without special permits, fearing that the town may be denuded of workmen.
Mukden Defeat Exaggerated.
The military commission of generals, under the presidency of Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholavitch, appointed to report on the condition of the army in Manchuria, it was handed over to Gen. Linovitch, has formulated "conclusions" as regards the immediate future.
The report gives Gen. Linovitch's statement that a large proportion of the prisoners taken by the Japanese at Mukden were non-combatants and that inquiries from St. Petersburg indicate to him that the extent of the Buffalo, April 1.—The large rubber house of the J. H. Thing company is burning. The loss already is two hundred thousand dollars.

The trial in Berlin of the editor of the Tagliche Rundschau, accused of treason in having revealed military secrets in an article on mine-laying in harbor approaches, ended with his acquittal. Lieutenant Truetzschler Von Polkenstein, retired, who wrote the article, was sentenced to six months' detention in a fortress.

STANDARD OIL KING TALKS ON THE REBATE SYSTEMS

Says They Were Legal Until It Was Decided By The Law That They Were Not.

New York, April 1.—H. H. Rogers, vice president and director of the Standard Oil company, Friday made a statement as to the conduct of the Standard Oil company which was evidently prompted by the criticism of the prudential committee of the American board of foreign missions for accepting a gift of $100,000 from John D. Rockefeller.
Mr. Rogers said: "Ministers say queer things. Dr. Washington Gladden says that everybody knows that John D. Rockefeller has obtained his money dishonestly. With as much reason I could say that everybody knows that Dr. Gladden would not trust the ten commandments for ten days with the deacons of his church because they would surely break some of them and bend the rest."
"Slavery in certain sections of the United States was legal until President Lincoln's emancipation proclamation. Rebates on railroads were just as legal until the passage of the interstate commerce commission act."
Policy Is Shameful.
Columbus, Ohio, April 1.—Dr. Washington Gladden, moderator of the great council of the Congregational churches of the United States, gave out the following reply to the statement of H. H. Rogers: "Mr. Rogers alleges that the vast sums extorted in rebates by the Standard Oil company from its competitors were 'legally' taken, because no law explicitly forbade them. What I said was that the money was 'flagrantly' acquired."
"To coerce the railroads into an arrangement by which it received large rebates, not only on its own oil, but on all the oil sent by its competitors; to force the railroads to rob its competitor for its enrichment, was, I submit, a flagrant policy, a shamefully policy."
Doubts Company's Virtue.
"The denial that rebates have been extorted since the interstate commerce law was passed is not credible. I know from statements made to myself by parties implicated that such rebates have been exacted by other corporations. I doubt if the Standard Oil company is more virtuous than the rest. But it is true that it has now gained a power in the classification and control of rates which makes it unnecessary to use the system of rebates."

EXTRA! GREAT RUSSIAN VICTORY!
The Russian army led by the Czar in person sweeps the Japanese from the face of the earth. Port Arthur and Mukden recaptured! But, gentle reader, this is April 1.

STATE NOTES

Frank Eichhorn, a laborer aged about 40 years, committed suicide at Sheboygan Falls by taking carbolic acid.
While A. Erickson was walking on the Milwaukee road track at Coleman he was struck by train No. 21 and killed.
Two stones weighing over a ton each fell from the cornice on the southeast corner of the new chemistry building at the state university and narrowly missed John Kelly, one of the workmen.
Interest in the coming spring election centers in Juneau county around the probate judgeship. The candidates are Melville L. Bunnett, John Price, Jr., John Morris, Archie D. Gill, Charles A. Voeder, and Julius T. Dittmar.
William Sae of Beloit attempted to drive his horse and carriage across a railroad bridge. The horse fell into the river and was drowned and the man escaped death by landing between the ties and clinging on till relief came.
Jacob C. Peterson has begun action in the circuit court at Racine to recover $5,000 from George Elholm, a former leading attorney, alleging that Elholm diverted funds of the Belle City Sash and Door company, amounting to about $5,000, while acting as treasurer.
Postal authorities are investigating a silk fraud, which has been effected at Green Bay through the mail. Scores of letters with small enclosures of money are in the postoffice directed to a fake firm supposed to be located there. It is supposed that the swindlers were scared off and shipped out.
Voting Machines Are Legal.
Lansing, Mich., April 1.—The supreme court of Michigan has decided unanimously that the state constitution does not preclude the use of voting machines.

Shooters At the Meet Thursday.

The above picture was taken during the most successful shoot of the Janesville Gun club ever held. Thirty-six shots from all over the country shot at clay pigeons and live birds from early morning until late at night. W. D. Stannard, a former Janesville resident, carried off the honor of high gun at the clay pigeons. In July another shoot is to be held at which some of the big cracks of the country have promised to be present. One feature of the tournament last Thursday was the number of spectators who witnessed the match. At one time fully five hundred persons enjoyed the unique scene.

KAISER'S VISIT MAY MARK ERA

Guarantee That Sovereignty Of Morocco Shall And Will Be Maintained.

MUST RESPECT RIGHTS OF GERMANS

Reception Takes On Character Of A Political Demonstration --Houses In Tangiers Being Covered With Flags.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
London, April 1.—Emperor William, in the course of his speech at the German legation in Tangier, said, according to dispatches from the Moroccan city:
"There is no preponderating influence in Morocco. Germany must enjoy the same rights as other powers. We guarantee that the sovereignty of Morocco shall and will be maintained."
This rather defiant version is probably a too free translation of the emperor's words, but it serves as a peg on which London newspapers hang further querulous editorial observations and criticisms as to the meaning of his visit. It is interpreted as an overt threat to France.
Politics In Visit.
The Times Tangier correspondent says: "It is impossible to deny that the emperor's visit, which the world wished to consider as that of an imperial tourist, has been an immense political demonstration. Nobody who saw Tangier garlanded with flowers and beflagged until the very houses were scarcely distinguishable, could doubt that such expenditure and trouble meant more than merely a courteous welcome to an emperor desirous of seeing the curiosities of Tangier."
Kaiser In Earnest.
"I was able to watch the emperor during all his interviews, and noticed the forcible manner in which he spoke, especially to the sultan's uncle, and the brief two hours he spent here may prove to have marked an epoch in the history of Morocco. He is reported to have 'poken' most emphatically to German subjects at the legation, but no official account of his remarks is obtainable."
Defends France's Policy.
Paris, April 1.—Foreign Minister Delcasse made a significant speech in the senate which evidently was designed to meet questions arising in connection with the visit of Emperor William to Tangier. The minister spoke with moderation, but his closing declaration that resistance in interested quarters would not cause France to modify her policy brought out vigorous applause.
Visit Is Cut Short.
Tangier, April 1.—Emperor William of Germany visited Tangier Friday, remaining on shore scarcely two hours. The elaborate program for his reception and entertainment was much changed, the emperor confining himself to a visit to the German legation, where he received deputations of Germans in Morocco.
It was officially explained that the reason for this procedure was the roughness of the sea; but after the departure of the Hamburg it was stated on good authority that Emperor William, having heard that there was a possibility of an anti-French demonstration on the occasion of his visit, desired to avoid such an incident.
Another report, which, however, has not received official confirmation, but is generally accepted, states that the German legation was informed that an anarchist plot had been discovered and advised that the emperor be dissuaded from landing.

CARRIES OUT THREAT TO KILL NEW RELATIVE

Bridegroom of Week Is Slain by Brother-in-Law, Whose Warning Not to Wed Is Disregarded.
Malone, N. Y., April 1.—Summer Hazen, a bridegroom of a week, and John Hall, his wife's brother, are dead as the result of an exchange of pistol shots at Hall's home. When Hall learned that Hazen and his sister were to be married he warned Hazen that he would resort to violence if necessary to prevent the ceremony.
Nothing came of the threat, and the newly married couple, believing that the trouble had blown over, started for a visit to the bride's brother's home. They had hardly crossed the threshold before Hall drew a revolver and sent a bullet into his brother-in-law's body. As Hazen fell he whipped a revolver from his own pocket and returned the shot.
Hall then left the house, and was supposed to have run away. Shortly after, however, he broke a pane of glass in the bedroom window where Hazen was lying and shot Hazen again.
The coroner and an officer were summoned and on their arrival the coroner stumbled over the body of Hall near the barn, with his head blown nearly off. He had killed himself.
The Waukau mills, owned by Mr. Lorenz of Milwaukee, burned Friday morning.
The Castalian Literary society won the annual debate from the Delian society at the Kenosha high school. The question was, "Resolved, That it would be impolitic for the United States to subsidize the merchant marine." The winning society defended the affirmative side of the question.

BITTER CAMPAIGN RAGES IN CHICAGO THIS WEEK

Both Harlan And Dunne Campaign Managers Claim Decisive Victory.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
Chicago, Ill., April 1.—Today one of the most fiercely contested mayoralty contests in the history of Chicago is to come to an end. Although the ballots are not cast until Tuesday, custom rules that active campaigning ends with the preceding Saturday. The campaign is centered almost entirely upon the traction issue, John Maynard Harlan, republican candidate, a son of United States Justice Harlan, taking the position that the only solution of the vexing question lies in the extension of existing franchises to the street-car companies with the provision for municipal ownership at the end of the term. During the closing days of the campaign Harlan has expressed himself as unequivocally in favor of municipal ownership, leaving the only issue between himself and Judge Dunne, the democratic candidate, who favors immediate ownership of the street-car lines, a matter of method in achieving municipal ownership. Harlan's campaign managers claim his election by forty thousand over Dunne, while the democratic leaders are sanguine in giving their candidate a Uke majority. John Collins, socialist candidate, claims the ideas which his party represents growing and his ticket poll over fifty thousand votes, a gain of five thousand over the vote for Debs. The prohibitionists make claims to thirty thousand at the polls. Today's betting on the outcome of the contest is 2 to 1 in favor of Dunne as against Harlan.

FIRST DAYS OF THE TELEPHONE

JANESVILLE HAD FIRST LINE IN THE STATE.

ERECTED BACK IN SEVENTIES

First Exchange in the United States Also Built in Wisconsin by Richard Valentine.

It is not generally known that the first telephone line ever installed in the state of Wisconsin was in operation in this city between the date Dr. Henry Palmer's residence and his office in 1877 and that Mr. Richard Valentine, the president of the Rock county telephone company installed it. Not only was the first telephone ever in use in Wisconsin installed in Janesville but the first telephone exchange in the United States was placed in operation that same year by Mr. Valentine at Greendale, the line running from the depot at Dartford, to Dartford and thence by a switch board to the Sherwood Forest and Greenwood hotels on either side of the lake. This switch board was devised by Mr. Valentine and as far as known is the first ever used in the telephone business in the United States.

The Early Stages
It was shortly after Mr. Valentine located his school of telegraphy in Janesville that he went to Chicago to purchase supplies from Grey and Barton of Chicago. While there he met George H. Bliss, then superintendent of the telegraphic service of the Chicago & Northwestern road and was told of a freak machine Mr. Grey had in his "den" in the factory. Curious to see this freak, Mr. Valentine visited the "den" and Mr. Grey produced an old violin across which wires of different sizes had been strung in place of the gut strings. By means of these Mr. Grey was able to transmit musical sounds using the violin as a sounding board, and sending the tones over a wire connected with a telegraph instrument. This was one of the beginnings of the modern telephone. As near as Mr. Valentine remembers this was in seventy-three. Later Mr. Grey perfected his idea and applied for a patent. According to Mr. Grey, he should have secured his patent previous to Alexander Bell of Philadelphia, whom old time electricians claim copied his idea from Grey's and through influence of politicians obtained the patent first. As it was the records of the patent office show the record that Bell's patent for the telephone was issued one hour before Eliza Grey filed his writ of caveat in the office. Both Bell and Grey organized companies and Mr. Valentine was agent for the American Telephone company, Grey's company, until the consolidation of the two companies into the American Bell Telephone company.

Grey's Concert
In 1874 Mr. Valentine was again in Chicago on business and on the invitation of Mr. Grey witnessed one of the most remarkable tests of the new powers of the telephone ever exhibited up to that time. Mr. Grey had made arrangements with the Western Union Company to secure their wires from Milwaukee to Chicago and had them connected with an arrangement in Carpenter's Hall, then located on North Clark street near the river. On a raised platform he had arranged a lot of boxes of different sizes and at the Milwaukee end of the line an organ was played, the tones, music and all being transmitted over the ninety odd miles to the hall where it was heard distinctly by those present. Mr. Grey made an address on the phenomena explaining the workings of his invention to the audience which consisted of leading scientists and electricians of that day. It was after this that he secured his patents and the American Telephone company was formed, the rights being sold to the Western Union Company. The consolidation came later.

Line in Janesville
Mr. Valentine as agent for the new concern established a line in Janesville between the residence and office of Dr. Palmer and later extended the line to Premice & Evenson's drug store. This was the first line ever put in operation in Wisconsin. Later Mr. Valentine went to Milwaukee and tried to introduce the new telephone to the Milwaukee merchants, one of whom was the late C. B. Whitford, a florist who formerly lived in Janesville. Mr. Whitford could not see the use of connecting his down town office with his green house two miles away and he did not order a phone. Eliza Grey, who was the head of the new American Telephone Company was a member of the firm of Grey & Barton, manufacturers of electrical supplies in Chicago. Later their company was swallowed up by the Western Electric company and Mr. Barton became secretary of the consolidation and Eliza Grey electrician. Mr. Barton is now president of the company and lives in Chicago.

The First Exchange
It was at Green Lake that the first exchange ever built in the United States was erected.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S HAIR.
Its Greatest Profusion Was Always a Cause of Wonder.

Even at the age of 80 years, Queen Victoria's hair was a marvel of luxuriance. The court physician, following Prof. Anna's discovery, undoubtedly treated her Majesty's scalp with a germ destroying preparation, that was not made public. It is now known, however, that the remedy for dandruff, the germ destroying element, is embodied in Newbro's Herpicide, the only hair preparation on the market that destroys the dandruff germ. Without dandruff, hair will grow profusely, and falling hair will be stopped. "Destroy the cause you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

States was erected. Mr. Valentine had a contract to connect the depot at Dartford, with the town a mile away and with the two hotels, the Sherwood Forest and the Greenwood on either side of the lake. In order to do this he devised a switch board similar to those then used by telegraphers and placed it in the post office at Dartford. By these means the two hotels could be connected with the depot by merely switching one wire off and the other on. Mr. Valentine did not appreciate the importance of this invention and did not patent it, but his methods was primarily the same as is now used in all the city exchanges. In fact such a thing as an exchange was not dreamed of. The old style telephones merely consisted of two receivers one to talk in, and one to listen through. There was no transmitter. That came later.

Independent Factory
Mr. Valentine not only put up the American telephones where they were wanted, but after the consolidation between Bell and the Grey interests manufactured the receivers and sold them until stopped by a threatening letter from Mr. Hubbard, the financial backer of Alexander Bell. Thus Mr. Valentine was the first independent telephone manufacturer in this part of the country. Ed. Smith was Mr. Valentine's assistant in this manufacture and the instruments were turned out at Morse & Hanson Company's furniture factory which was located where the Jeffers company now stands. They were simple contrivances easily made and quickly sold and gave as good service as did the more costly ones of the Bell company.

AMATEURS ARE WARMLY RECEIVED

Robert Clark, Miss Saxby, George Hessnauer, and Horace Rice Manifest Their Talent.

Amateurs in various lines of entertainment, in connection with the regular strong bill, were largely instrumental in the large audience at the West Side vaudeville theatre last evening. All the beginners performed their different acts with credit and compared very favorably with professionals. Robert Clark showed his ability to handle the organ with expertness. Miss Saxby with her "Tossing" song was well received. The little juvenile amateur, who is here with the Stewart and Raymond musical team, was an especial favorite and was forced to respond to two encores. George Hessnauer, blackface, in his jingling act was very good. Illustrated with stereoscopic views, "My Heart's in Texas Tonight" as sung by Horace Rice, was also pleasing and provoked much applause.

RICH CHURCH MEMBER
Above is the picture of one of the richest members of the church of Mohammed in China. The snapshot was taken in a Chinese port by Emily W. Ellis, whose letter to Mr. F. Ellis of this city was printed in the Gazette last evening.

...LINK AND PIN... News for the Railroad Men.

St. Paul Road
George O. Kerschaw, who has been acting as assistant roundhouse foreman during the illness of the general foreman, J. C. Fox, returned to Milwaukee today. Mr. Fox resumed his duties.

Because it was necessary that the milk-train from here to Chicago reach its destination by 10:45 o'clock in the morning a new train has been substituted which leaves here at eight.

Locomotive number 175 of the Rockwell and Southern is in the house for repairs.

General Foreman J. C. Fox returned from Mineral Point this morning.

Extra Engineer William Smith was on the dog-run last night.

Locomotive number 745 from the Mineral Point and Northern is in the Janesville roundhouse to undergo repairs.

North-Western Road Engineer J. W. Bruzel is off duty.

Engineer Pruner and Fireman Merrill went to Fond du Lac yesterday with locomotive number 1072.

Engineer Schindler is laying off.

INQUIRIES MADE FOR ONE W. E. MELLOR.

An inquiry for information regarding the whereabouts of W. E. Mellor who lived in Beloit 15 years ago and was supposed to have subsequently removed to Janesville, has been received at the postoffice and turned over to the police department. It comes from Harry Mellor of Germania, Wis. The man is described as being from 50 to 52 years of age and of a reddish or sandy complexion.

OLD FOGY TAKES A JOVIAL TURN

DISCUSSES THE POLITICAL SITUATION IN QUEER MANNER.

STUDIES THEOPHILUS SHEPHERD

Figures Out Majorities by the Aid of the Lead Pencil and a Pad of Paper.

Now strike your blows, O candidates, Blows certain to be felt. But see to it that none of them Shall land below the belt.

Making political predictions is one of the easiest jobs that a man ever tried. Falling off a log is hard work in comparison. It is only necessary to snuff the atmosphere, look wise, grab your pencil, make a few figures and the thing is done. One who had never tried it might think the work would give him the headache, but not so. Neither is practice necessary. The amateur can do it as well as the professional and the results will be quite as satisfactory. It anybody offers you a job at political predicting for $2.50 a day of eight hours do not hesitate to jump at it, for it need not necessarily interfere with your other business.

Take for instance the question of mayor of Janesville. Why a good "dope" artist could sit down and figure up Matheson's majority by a few hundred, but where are obstacles. But there are matters to be considered. The opposition to Mr. Matheson claim all sorts of pungent things about him. They even state hearsay as facts and do not hesitate to depreciate the republican candidate as much as possible. These facts must be considered. On the "dope sheet" Mr. Matheson has a clear field, for half the campaign stories told about him are lies pure and simple and should not be considered by the sensible voters. If Matheson would make Janesville a good mayor, he would give the city a business administration. He would save the city money and would make a chief executive of this municipality looked up to and respected. A vote for Matheson is a vote for good government.

Then figuring from the "dope" sheet again City Clerk Badger should win as the saying goes, hands down. Well, he will. His opponent, Mr. Dunn, is a good man, but is not fitted for the place as is Mr. Badger. There is everything in having a good city clerk and Badger certainly is tact.

The judgeship appears to have no doubts as to who will be elected although the fight against Judge Winslow of the supreme court and Judge Fifield of the municipal court will be a warm one. Voters should not neglect these men because there is no one running against them. Judges like votes even if they have no opposition. Vote for Reeder for justice of the peace.

Taking the aldermanic question in mind one would say that in the first ward there would be a battleground worthy of the foemen's steel. With no one running against him Mr. Fish should win if merit counts for any vote. In the second affairs are more complicated. Mr. Peters has for his opponent Mr. Connell, who was elected two years ago as a joke and has not improved since election. Peters should win if merit counts for anything. George Buchholz must defeat his opponent, making two good aldermen from this ward. In the third there is grave doubt as to Mr. Brockhaus will be elected. He has no opponent and should make a strong race. In the fourth Harry Carter would make an excellent alderman but unfortunately the democrats and social democrats are to be counted with. Both are strong candidates up and the social democrats are doing much to promote their cause. Hard work may help them out. The fifth is the scene of the conflict. Edward Peterson has for his opponent Mr. Dulin. Or rather, it should be said Mr. Dulin is opposed by Alderman Schmiedley and Mr. Peterson, with odds on in favor of Peterson at the present time. Fight it out, gentlemen. The more the merrier.

The funniest contest of the whole city is centered in the staid old third ward. Here we find Mrs. Janet Day pitted against Herbert J. Cunningham for school commissioner and the queerest thing is that many of the voters are taking it all as a joke and have said they were going to vote for Mrs. Day just for fun. This is not a joke gentlemen. This is plain truth. Mr. Cunningham has served the ward and city faithfully and all joking aside, should be re-elected. With no disrespect to Mrs. Day, Mr. Cunningham is by far the best fitted for the position. It is kind of Mrs. Day's friends to assure her their votes but it is not the best thing for the city.

EXTENSION BEGUN TO THE PACIFIC

Real Ownership of the New White River Road Is The St. Paul System.

The real ownership of the White River Valley railroad, recently incorporated at Pierre, S. D., for $50,000,000, was revealed yesterday, when the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway announced that it would extend its line about seventy miles beyond Chamberlain, S. D. The White River Valley Railroad company is now constructing the road, which the St. Paul admits is to be an extension of that system. To build the line of seventy miles would not cost more than $500,000.

Road to Coast Planned
Therefore it is evident that despite official denials, the White River Valley Railway company was capitalized for $50,000,000 for the purpose of extending the St. Paul system to the Pacific coast. The reason for the official denials that the St. Paul company is back of the White River Valley company may be that part of the route projected to the Pacific coast crosses the Rosebud Indian reservation, and the necessary permit has not been secured from the government to lay tracks there and to build a bridge over the Missouri river.

Acquiring Portland Terminals
While it is stated that the St. Paul system plans an extension of only seventy miles westward from Chamberlain, S. D., it is practically certain that the work of extension will be pushed until the Pacific coast is reached. It has been asserted that for several years the St. Paul company has been securing valuable tracts of land at Portland for terminals. Eventually it probably will be found that the Harriman and Standard Oil interests have acquired control of the St. Paul system, after realizing that J. J. Hill will control the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads when the Northern Securities tangle is straightened out.

JOHN CULLEN IS TO BUILD STRUCTURE

Awarded the Contract for Erecting the Postoffice at Hammond, Indiana.

John Cullen has been awarded the contract for building the new postoffice at Hammond, Indiana, his bid for the work being $102,619. This is the largest contract that Mr. Cullen has ever received and as it was awarded in open competition against some of the leading contractors of the country, he feels justly proud.

RECOVERED BODY FROM THE RIVER

Remains of the Dead Beloit Professor Is Found After a Search.

The remains of the late Professor Montague White of Beloit college, who was drowned in Youngs creek yesterday morning, was recovered last evening by the searching party from Beloit and taken to that city on the interurban car leaving here at half-past six. The accident was caused by Professor White losing his paddle overboard and tipping the canoe over in trying to reach it. Both he and his companion, Roy Andrews, were in the water for nearly an hour before Andrews reached shore completely exhausted and White sank. The accident occurred at the mouth of Youngs creek. Andrews was swept out into the river and while back up the creek, where he drowned before he was able to reach shore.

Buy it in Janesville.

HERBERT J. CUNNINGHAM
Herbert J. Cunningham is the republican candidate for school commissioner from the third ward. He is being opposed by Mrs. Janet Day who is backed by the ladies of the ward and who are doing active campaign work in her favor. It is hardly probable that the ladies of the ward realize just what they are about to undertake. Few, if more than one or two, understand that they must cast their ballot on the voting machine and that they are only to be allowed to vote for the state superintendent of schools and for school commissioner. To avoid any doubt as to this matter it will be necessary for an inspector to go into the machine

HAVE ORGANIZED FOR CHAUTAUQUA

ASSOCIATION WAS FORMED AT MYERS HOUSE LAST NIGHT.

REV. GOEBEL IS PRESIDENT

Executive Board Chosen, and Matters Have Progressed with Much Rapidity.

It is now an assured fact that Janesville is to have a ten days' Chautauqua for the next five years. At a meeting of gentlemen interested in such a project held at the Myers hotel last evening the plans were fully discussed and an organization perfected. This is the first step towards the consummation of the idea which was conceived less than a week ago with the arrival of Mr. Holbrook in Janesville. The project is now assigned and Janesville is to have its ten-day gathering with the best talent obtainable for the money.

The Project

The plan as it now stands is that the newly organized Janesville Chautauqua association hold a ten days' session on their grounds from July 26th until August 6th. A program committee consisting of Rev. W. A. Goebel, A. B. Matheson, J. C. Kline and Mrs. J. B. Day are to work with Mr. Holbrook and arrange for the speakers and entertainers. There will also be other committees to look after the sale of tickets, the grounds, the transportation and all the little matters which will go to make the Chautauqua a success. Mr. Holbrook who has brought the plan into public notice will work with the association. According to the contract made with them, he will help arrange the program, which will be hired with the funds raised from the sale of the season tickets. All the money thus obtained will be devoted to the program. The receipts of the association will be derived from the sale of the admission tickets, the sale of the privileges of the grounds, the rebates from the street-car company, the money obtained from the rental of tents to campers, of chairs, cots and so forth. This will all go into the general treasury and after the session is closed and all bills paid, these gross receipts will be divided equally between the association and Mr. Holbrook, who will act as conductor of the ten days' sessions, arranging all the business details. Mr. Holbrook also furnishes the tents, the big one for the lectures and entertainments and the small ones for the campers, the lights and the benches and chairs.

The Organization

At the meeting last evening the following officers were elected: President—Rev. W. A. Goebel. Vice Pres.—A. B. Matheson. Secretary—J. C. Kline. Treasurer—Frank Jackman. Eight members to act with the officers to form the executive board—J. L. Bostwick, H. C. Buell, R. C. Denison, D. W. Hayes, Rev. J. H. Tippet, Rev. N. A. Vaughan, P. H. Korst, George McKee.

There is to be a meeting of the executive committee on Monday in the offices of Whitehead & Matheson. Mr. Holbrook left for Chicago this morning and will arrange for the program, returning Monday to begin active work.

DATE IS SET FOR SPRING MEETING

Rock County Teachers' Association Will Convene at Evansville on May 6

This morning in the office of Superintendent Buell in the high school building a meeting of the executive committee of the Rock County Teachers' association was held and it was decided to hold the semi-annual meeting of the organization, the spring gathering, in the high school at Evansville, May 6. The program was carefully formulated though not completed nor settled upon. Rural school problems and the recent educational legislation, enacted in the Wisconsin legislature, will be discussed both by special speakers and generally. Those present at the meeting this morning were Superintendent Showalter of the blind institute, president of the association; County Superintendents Antisdal and Hemingway, and Superintendent Buell.

ENGINE PITCHES INTO TABLE PIT

St. Paul Locomotive Starts While Standing on Side Track Without Occupant.

While the C. M. & St. P. R. R. locomotive number 1326 was standing on a side track near the roundhouse, with a full head of steam and ready to be driven to the passenger-depot for service on the Davis Junction-Rockford passenger train leaving here at 11:20 this morning, the throttle flew open and the engine with a burst of speed dashed to the end of the track at the turntable and pitched into the table and the front wheels driving a foot into the ground and demolishing the brick catch of the sewer. Engineer Gregory who was nearly jumped to the cab as the engine came to a standstill and shut off the throttle, stopping the revolutions of the drive-wheels and the water from the tender was directed into the fire-box. The car repairers from the shops of both roads were summoned and the locomotive lifted back to the tracks. The partial demolishing of the table and the wood portions on the front of the locomotive was the only damage done.

Attention, Loyal Americans

There will be a meeting of the Loyal Americans at C. A. R. hall on Monday evening, April 30 at 7:30 o'clock. Ten members will be initiated at that time.

CARLE MAY BE A PRESIDENT YET

Postal Clerks Plan To Elect Janesville Man Their New Official Head

Members of Division No. 10 of the National Association of Railway Clerks are seriously considering the election of B. F. Carle of this city as president of the organization. If the plans of the executive committee, which met in Milwaukee this past week, are consummated Mr. Carle will be the next president of this division when it meets later in the summer for its annual gathering.

"The Road to Canossa"

This is an expressive phrase, denoting the entire submission of the State to the Church, or civil rights to ecclesiastical domination. It is derived from the unsuccessful attempt of Henry III. of Germany to escape the Papal rule in 1077, and his subsequent humiliating submission to Pope Gregory X.

ROCK RIVER A RAGING TORRENT

NOW AN INCH AND HALF ABOVE HIGH WATER MARK.

SCENES AT KOSHKONONG

The Lake and Its Approaches is Now Forty Miles Long—Three to Fifteen Wide.

Rock river is an inch and a half higher today than it has been since 1884 when the dam went out. Not only is it higher today but it has every appearance of being on the rise. The New Doty works and the Thorougood company have closed their shops, owing to the high water, and on Milwaukee, River and North Main streets the river has come up over the streets, forming puddles. At the upper dam the water goes over with a sweep rising majestically in a high furrow on the other side before it begins to think of breaking into foam. It is a grand sight. Thousands and thousands of gallons of water are rushing over, sweeping along bits of wood, barrels and many dead animals. Measurement at the crest of the dam shows the water lacks an inch of being six feet above it, the usual stage with the boards up is a foot. Word received from Indian

Ford this afternoon reports the water as going down and this is taken to indicate that it may go down here tonight.

Muskrat on Street. Last evening a big fat muskrat was driven out of the river by the high water and came up onto North Main street and was killed while trying to climb into some of the stores on the river-bank. Other muskrats have been coming down stream in the current, but after going over the dam they have not again been caught sight of. Cellars along the river-bank are under water and the banks swept clean of all the winter's ashes and refuse. The high water has covered the city dumping places and as hundreds of loads of ashes are being dumped just at present it is a certainty that they are being dumped some other place than where the city has indicated. Henry Tall nearly lost a fine team yesterday by the animals stepping off the narrow roadway leading to his upper ice-house and having to swim for shore pulling a heavy ice-wagon after them.

At Koshkonong

The river is several feet over the Bark road to Hebron. There is an unbroken view of water from the town bridge to D. S. Damuth's farm and it is almost up to the top of the ice breakers. Every business cellar near the stream is flooded and Lake Koshkonong and its wide narrows, together with Rock and Bark rivers and the Scuppernon creek and adjacent marshes, make one grand lake forty miles long and from three to fifteen miles wide.

Lots of Ducks

On this picturesque lake, ducks and geese make gleeful home and are laying on fat for the future. Muskrats are in prime for now and are being gathered in by the hundred. By April 10th the blue bills, wigwag, pin tails, redheads and canvasback will have acquired the fine flavor that comes from eating northern vegetation and northern worms and will proceed to grace the tables of sportsmen.

We express our sincere thanks to the many friends and neighbors who assisted us during our sorrow and bereavement, including Mrs. Etta Fellows, the nurse for her excellent care. We are grateful to Rev. Kvale for his cheering speech. We wish to thank the employees of Jones' warehouse, the members of the Norwegian church and all friends who donated flowers.

MORE NEW BOOKS ARE PURCHASED

PUBLIC LIBRARY ENRICHED BY TWENTY-SIX VOLUMES.

REPRESENT EIGHT CLASSES

Lost Magazine Being Sought to Complete Volume—Was Taken But Never Returned.

Twenty-six new books were added to the Janesville public library by the purchase of the volumes named on the book list for March. Nine of these are in the fiction class, three in the literature, two in the biography, two in the art, four in the history and travel, three in the sociology and three in the science and industry. These books have been placed on the shelves and are now at the disposal of the public. The following is the list:

Fiction

Dixon—Clansman. Ward—Marriage of William Ashbe. Stevenson—Marathon Mystery. Tarkington—in the Arena. Doyle—Return of Sherlock Holmes. Green—Millionaire Baby. Johnson—in the Name of Liberty. O'Connor—Heroes of the Storm. Lone—Nancy Stair.

Literature

Science and Industry

Haeckel—Wonders of Life. Coochran—Modern Industrial Progress. Hand-book on Prevention of Tuberculosis.

Magazine Lost

Gathering together the magazines of 1904 to have them bound it was discovered that the February, 1904, number of the Popular Science Monthly had been taken from the library and never returned. This is an offense against the state library's laws and the offender, if proved guilty, is liable to a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred or confinement in the county jail for not more than three months. The librarians are very desirous to keep the files of all magazines complete and if any one has a copy of the issue desired and do not care to keep it for their own use the donation of it would be appreciated. This is the only way that the number can be secured because it is now out of print and the publishers are unable to furnish the issue.

Taken to Mendota: Miss Martha

Glass, a young lady about nineteen years of age, was examined as to her sanity yesterday and sentenced to the Mendota asylum where she was taken today. Her father is an inmate of the county asylum.

RECOVER WATCH THAT WAS STOLEN

Police Are Successful in a Bit of Excitingly Clever Work Recently.

On Sunday night last Thomas Ken-narth, an engineer, boarding at the Madison house, lost his gold watch valued at $37.75. The police and sheriff were notified and after several days' search located the thieves and locked them up. They found that one of the culprits, Clarence McDonald, had pawned the watch at the Great Northern Loan bank in Chicago and will be able to secure the property back. The other prisoner is John Dulin. Both boys have confessed to the crime and are now locked up in the city hall lock-up. The police did a clever bit of work in locating the thieves and deserve much credit.

MISS ETHEL JEFFREY AND S. A. DAVIS ARE UNITING IN MARRIAGE

Young People Registered Near Edgerton Wedded Thursday—News-try and Other Edgerton News. (Special to the Gazette.)

Edgerton, April 1.—The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Jeffrey, just north of this city, was the scene of a very pretty wedding Thursday evening, March 31. The contracting parties were Miss Ethel Jeffrey and Mr. S. A. Davis. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock in the presence of about forty guests. Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey are both well and favorably known and have a large circle of friends who wish them a happy life. Many useful and handsome presents were received as tokens of esteem. The young couple will occupy the Jeffrey farm in the town of Albion.

Miss Bertha Rusch Summured.
Death entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rusch, Wednesday morning, and claimed their sixteen-year-old daughter Bertha. Miss Rusch has been a sufferer from consumption for about a year and patiently bore her affliction. A father, mother, three brothers and three sisters survive her. The funeral was held Friday afternoon from the German church, of which she was a member. The young ladies' society, which she attended, were present and marched to the cemetery in a body. Rev. J. C. Spillman conducted the services which were largely attended.

Miss Elizabeth Vayette Dies.
On Wednesday morning, March 29, the grim reaper claimed for his own Miss Elizabeth Vayette, who for the past few years has been afflicted with consumption. Not until about two years ago did the disease reach its acute stage, and although the best of medical aid was rendered, all was without avail. With Christian-like fortitude, Miss Vayette has borne her suffering and the end was peaceful. Many friends can testify as to her good deeds, her thoughtfulness of others in her sickness and now sympathy with the bereft family. The funeral held Friday morning from the Congregational church was attended by a large number who gathered to pay last respects to a dear friend.

A. S. Riley, who has been conducting a restaurant at Belmont, has sold the business and is again among Edgerton friends.

Miss Winifred Coon is visiting at Libertyville, Ill.

NOVEL SCHEME TO BEAT A RAILWAY

Clever Dodge of Traveling Man to Escape Paying His Railway Fare.

One of the many novel schemes which have been propounded by the wise ones who work harder to make money dishonestly than honest men do, has come to light in the unique advertisement of a man who offered to sell the secret of how to ride on a train free of charge. There are many Janesville people who ride free of charge, but it is doubted if they have tried this method.

Recently a commercial traveler notified the bureau that a man named J. Frank Hogner, living at Warren, Ohio, offered to sell for $5 a sure scheme for traveling on trains without paying fare. Detectives of the bureau were sent out to investigate the scheme and catch the inventor. After receiving $5 sent through the mails, Hogner thus described to the detective his scheme for beating the railroads:

"Commence the scheme on some fast train, as it cannot help but work. Simply go into the coach, drop your grip and overcoat into a seat, and notice through the front door of the coach when you see the conductor in the coach just ahead of the one you are in, step inside the lavatory, and stand directly behind the door, but do not look the door.

"The conductor invariably enters the coach, simply opens the door and closes it without looking in. Be very careful to stand so that should be open the door very wide it would strike the stop which is usually on the seat. This always gives a man room to stand without the door touching him.

"The conductor passes on, checking up his train, and when sufficient time has elapsed for the conductor to get through the coach, or almost through the coach, you simply walk out quietly, drop into your seat, and remain there.

"The conductor never checks up his train on returning to the front. It is also well, on a long run, after you have allowed the conductor to pass you, incidentally to meet him and ask him regarding some connection that he may become familiar with your face, which afterward would assure him that you had come from a point away back."

Hogner was arrested by the postal authorities for fraudulent use of the mails and is now awaiting trial in Cleveland. It is alleged he sold his "secret" for saving railroad fare to hundreds of commercial travelers and claimed they "worked" it successfully on all the big railroads in the East and from Chicago to the South.

Detectives of the Railway Ticket Protective bureau made a practical test of Hogner's scheme and it succeeded on the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio roads. Hogner claimed to be an Old Fellow, Mason, and a former member of the United Commercial Travelers' association.

LIVES DEARER THAN OUR VERY OWN

How many lives dearer to us than our very own have been placed in needless jeopardy by failure to provide against and forestall the great suffering which too frequently accompanies and follows the bearing of children? That we would do anything within our power to obviate the possibility of such an happening is too patent to admit of question; therefore—mark well this fact—a liniment,

MOTHER'S FRIEND

by name, has been devised, whose function it is to prepare in advance the muscles and tissues intimately associated with parturition. This liniment is for external application. By its use the parts are relaxed and enabled to withstand not only the actual strain brought to bear on them during accouchement, but also to rally from this ordeal and speedily regain their normal proportions and tonicity. It is not irritating to the most sensitive surfaces, and is applicable to all cases. It's not enough to call it Mother's Friend—it's the friend of the whole family. $1.00, all druggists. # A ROSE OF NORMANDY

WILLIAM R. A. WILSON

CHAPTER XX.
IN WHICH SOME DISCOVERIES ARE MADE.

The advance of the party was not rapid, because of the inability of the captives to make long marches. The leader was evidently a subordinate chief who feared to ill-treat his white prisoners lest the responsibility of having provoked hostilities with the French should be laid at his door. At night a special shelter was provided for Renee, while Tont and the Mohican were permitted to rest on the ground near by. Four of the number were detailed to procure food, which they did in great abundance. An offer was even made to provide a sort of bark litter for Renee, swung from the shoulders of two of the Indians. She refused this, however, as it would have separated her from Tont, whom she silently appealed to more and more for protection. He noticed her changed demeanor, but attributed it to the fact that she was La Salle's friend and the only white man present. After the little camp was still at night he heard the call of a distant screech-owl that he recognized as the signal of the ever-faithful Pompon, who was evidently following on their trail. On their journey to Quebec, after escaping from the Hurons they had devised a code of signs in case they should ever be separated. The number of hoots corresponded to a letter of the alphabet, the whole preceded by three series of cries of three calls each. Thus Tont was able to spell out during the night the communication intended for him. "C-o-u-r-a-g-e," came the cheering message, "I s-a-l-l-f-i-n-d-m-e-a-n-s-f-o-r-y-o-u-r-e-s-c-a-p-e."

Six days they journeyed thus. At length on the morning of the seventh the far-off barking of dogs was heard, and the prisoners knew they were approaching their destination. About noon they came upon a clearing about ten acres in extent, situated on a plateau overlooking a beautiful lake some half-dozen miles long. On this plateau about 60 dwellings of varying sizes were scattered irregularly. Their advent was heralded by the yelping of a horde of naked children, who surrounded them, followed by a swarm of Indian curs, who barked vociferously. The warriors bestowed a succession of cuffs and kicks when they approached too near, and led the captives to one of the smaller lodges, which was unoccupied.

The sides of this house were formed of a double row of tall saplings planted firmly in the ground, whose tops were bent over and lashed together at the top to form the roof. The many interstices of the branches served for the escape of the smoke from a fire which smoldered on the ground in the middle of the floor. Over all were spread sheets of bark like the clapboards of a civilized dwelling. From a number of cross poles near the roof were suspended a quantity of skins, clothing, pieces of smoked meat, and rows of dried ears of maize. Around the interior, about three feet from the ground, ran a shelf or scaffolding, covered with a few mats and skins, which evidently served for sleeping places for the inmates. Here in an atmosphere rendered almost unbearable by the heat and smoke of the fire, the three prisoners were left to await the return of the head chief and his men, who were off on a hunting expedition for the day. A guard at the door prevented any intrusion, and the weary travelers were left in peace. Tont managed to collect a sufficient number of skins to curtain off one end of the room and form a soft pile on which Renee could rest. She received this thoughtful attention without thanks, but yet without the resistance with which she had formerly met Tont's kindly offers.

Rheumatism

Like Neuralgia, is now known to be a nervous disease. The kidneys become weak through lack of nerve energy, and fail to filter the uric acid from the blood; this acid attacks and burns the nerves and muscles, and consumes the oil in the joints, producing inflammation, fever, swelling—pain.

To cure Rheumatism, then, you must restore the kidney nerves and muscles, and neutralize the effect of the acid upon the joints and tissues with Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, a nerve medicine, which has made many cures of this painful disease. Nerve strengtheners the kidney nerves and increases the circulation, and relief is assured.

"Before I took Dr. Miles' Nervine, I had been looking for a cure for Rheumatism for 25 years. The last time I was laid up for several months, and after taking half a bottle of the medicine, I felt a better. I tried to rub in, to drink, doctors' prescriptions, but none of them had any effect. One day I read about Dr. Miles' Nervine and got a bottle. After the first dose I had a good night's rest, and after taking half a bottle the pains disappeared, and I went out and walked all around the town. In a week I went to work, and was perfectly cured, but continued to take the medicine for a time, to make sure the pains would not come back."

The two men retired to the other end of the lodge and conversed in low tones concerning their future disposition. Tont was inclined to consider that the arrival of the head chief would result in their being set at liberty and a safe conduct being furnished as far as Fort Niagara. Akiesko took a more gloomy view of their situation. The recent attack on the white settlements along the St. Lawrence by the Iroquois and their repulse, would probably make them at least unfriendly toward the French, while the fact of their being at continual warfare with his own tribe would render them apt to seek revenge for former hostilities on the person of the captured warrior. Tont assured him that he would demand his safety and release as strongly as his own, and felt that the offer of the reward he would make would overcome any feeling of enmity they might have against his nation.

Toward night the noise of the returning braves was heard and the hum of many voices telling of their success came to the ears of the waiting French. The sound approached the lodge where they were, and soon the doorway was darkened by human forms as a group of men entered. Tont stepped forward to meet the famous chief whose terrible name had reached his ears when he had stopped at Fort Niagara, as he heard a voice inquiring in guttural Iroquois for his prisoners. One of the Indians threw a quantity of light fuel on the fire, causing it to blaze up suddenly and illuminate fully the gloomy interior. Tont was somewhat surprised at seeing the small stature of the renowned chief, as well as the light tint of his skin. As he took a further stride, Tont started back in astonishment, as he recognized the painted features of the man.

"Mille tonnes! Le Comte de Miron!" he cried.

The warrior, too, made a sudden spasmodic movement of surprise as he stared at him. He speedily repressed this emotion and bowed gravely with a ferocious gleam in his eye, while the outlines of a branded fleur-de-lis on his cheek seemed to glow through the paint, as he replied in French, "M. le Capitaine Tont, I believe." His glance chanced to wander toward the other end of the room, where Renee, awakened from slumber by the noise outside, had pulled aside her curtain and stood with white face and pupils dilating with horror. He made an eager step forward in ready recognition. Then turning to his Indian companions, he dismissed them by a gesture and the three whites were alone, save for Akiesko, who retreated to the darkest corner.

"Well, friends," he said with a demure smile, "we are well met. You, monsieur, who thought me dead 2,000 leagues away, and you, mademoiselle, who had forgotten me and who are more beautiful than ever even in your convent garb, indeed do me honor," he continued in a mocking tone, "to have come so many weary miles in order to visit me in my savage lodge. It must have been a difficult journey that you have made, you two together—alone." Here Tont, who had recovered in a great measure from his surprise, flushed red and involuntarily felt at his side for his sword. "Nay, curb your roving spirit," was the taunting reply to his gesture. "It is not seemly for guests to seek a quarrel with their host. Besides, you have not the means of defense you had that cursed day, when you nearly snuffed out my lamp of life with your steel blade. For shame, a lady present, too, to see such a display of your anger, passions!"

"Have done with your insolence," replied Tont, haughtily, "and send us on our way to Fort Niagara with all possible speed."

"Ma foi!" cried the comte in mock surprise, as he turned toward Renee, "did ever you see such indecent haste in a visitor to leave his entertainer? 'Tis monstrous! Why, he has scarce arrived and yet he talks of his departure. Nay, nay, my gallant friend, it would be scant grace for me to serve a guest so. For my guest you are and I can promise you rare entertainment," he continued, as a baleful glare of mingled hate and triumphant revenge darted from his eyes. "Such as you, monsieur, have never before experienced, and which I believe will convey a lasting impression to your mind, while mademoiselle will be so delighted that I fear she will be loath to leave."

"Coward!" hissed Tont, beside himself with rage, as he advanced with shaking fist upon his enemy. "How dare you insult Mademoiselle d'Outre-mer and myself with your veiled threats and cursed insinuations! Whelp of the devil's breed! Were I but crossing swords with you again I should make surer work than I did before."

The Comte de Miron now threw aside his mask of courtesy, and, white and trembling, faced his foe. "We are not in France nor shall we fight with swords. Frenchman no longer, I am an Indian now, and with savage weapons shall I strike. At Paris you won: the dice are changed and now 'tis my throw. There you had friends and we were equal in power. Here you have none, and my will is law. Am I not the head chieftain of the mighty clan of the wolf? A thousand wait to do my bidding. You are indeed in my power, and you shall feel the exercise of it."

Then turning to Renee he continued indignantly: "Your lover shall be the sport to make an Indian holiday. You shall see those lips that have murmured soft of love pierced by the savage needle; those arms that have clasped you close shall shrivel up in the hot flame; those eyes that have cast upon you their amorous glance shall be torn out and thrown to dogs to lick. While you," the man continued, raising his voice and foaming at the mouth, "you, the delicious morsel I have so long waited and yearned for, the ripening fruit that I have watched from afar, shall be mine, mine, and you shall learn that it is better to be the squaw of an Iroquois chief than the lover, mistress, or wife of the bravest swashbuckler or roisterer on earth."

A snarl as of some maddened animal goaded beyond endurance escaped from Tont, and with a spring he had clutched his adversary by the throat with one hand, while with his upraised iron member he was about to deal a blow that no human frame could resist, when he was quickly seized and torn away by two warriors, who, hearing the excited tones of their chieftain, had entered in time to save him.

The comte stood gasping, feeling his throat where the imprint of Tont's fingers were visible.

Tont's breast heaved from the sudden fierce exertion, and as he stood held by each outstretched arm, his figure tense from the effort to free himself, he flung defiance at his adversary:

"Hell-hound! scold! renegade! do you seek to terrify me with your menacing words? Am I a child to be frightened by the sight of your ugly face? What care I for the horde of painted devils at your back, surrounded by those who obey your call? Here, defenseless, in the midst of your allies and friends, I say do your worst, torture me if you will, but I shall still defy you. Know this as well, that all your plans shall be for naught! that I shall conquer yet, and escaping, shall return to wreak my vengeance."

The comte had now regained his power of speech.

"Silence, vain braggart! Escape? Thanks for the word; it reminds me that I must separate you lest you kill one another and I shall find you cold in each other's arms. I will fetch my squaw and she will lead my lady yonder to a fairer bower." And motioning to the two men who held Tont to release him, he strode through the door with them at his heels.

Renee, who throughout the interview had remained motionless, now ran lightly to Tont.

"Ah! M. Tont," she exclaimed in an alarmed tone, "what shall we do? Why have you a second time provoked this man and roused the hatred of one who cannot stoop too low to gain his ends? Had you been calm he might have been prevailed upon to allow you to go un molested. Now he will never be satisfied until he kills you. It was brave; it was noble; it was magnificent; but was it wise?"

"Ah! mademoiselle," said Tont with a shade of reproach in his voice, "how could I remain calm beneath his insults to you? You, whose honor I would defend with my last drop of blood, whose safety is my one thought, for whom I would face a hundred savages rather than that one hair of your head should be injured." He suddenly ceased speaking as though struck dumb, for as he gazed at the girl who stood with one hand involuntarily stretched toward him, wide-eyed and motionless, he saw as by a lightning flash within her glance that which stopped his heart and sent a strange chill through his frame. For in that instant he saw deep into her very soul and read the secret that she had guarded so well. It was but an instant, for he quickly passed his hand before his eyes and recovered himself. "Nay, it is not strange, mademoiselle," he resumed, "that I should speak thus, for I love La Salle, and he loves you, and I am pledged by all the claims of friendship and loyalty to bring you safe to your journey's end."

Before Renee could reply the comte entered, followed by a squaw. Hardly had she seen the prisoners before she uttered a cry, and Tont stared in bewilderment into the face of Madame

"YES, BUT I LIED."

Bizard. It was indeed she, but how changed! The roses had left her cheeks and lines of care and suffering were strongly marked about her eyes. Clad in the slatternly dress of an Iroquois squaw, she had lost the trimness of figure that had been her chief attraction formerly. No longer were the lashes drooped in coquettish glances, but a hunted look had taken their place. The comte stood watching them, smiling grimly. "So it seems that you two are acquainted."

Detroit Evening News: Potter Palmer, son of Mrs. Potter Palmer of Chicago, sued a bird dealer for $40, the purchase price of a parrot that would not talk. The case developed all the elements for a first-class comic opera. Mr. Potter declared the bird would not converse, and some of the swells of Chicago, were put on the stand to confirm the assertion. The parrot objected to leaving the lovely mansion of the North Shore drive, and did its prattiest, shouting "Pretty Polly! Polly wants a cracker," etc., but its testimony was ruled out, and the millionaire triumphed over the poor bird dealer. It was ever thus.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS

Because it's For One Thing Only and Janesville is Learning This. Nothing can be good for anything. Doing one thing well brings success.

Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only.

They are for sick kidneys. They cure backache, every kidney ill.

Here is evidence to prove it. Mrs. George M. Carey of 1920 Pleasant street, Beloit, says: "I could hardly realize that the first box of Doan's Kidney Pills obtained at C. E. Emerson's drug store did me so much good. I used medicines from the doctor which helped me for a time but soon I became as bad as ever if not worse. I suffered from disordered kidneys for four years and the pain in my back was terrible. I could not sleep but at times had to sit up almost the entire night. When rising from a chair I was often compelled to place my hands on the sides of it and raise myself up to keep the strain off my back. I also suffered from the disturbing of my rest at night. After using Doan's Kidney Pills a short time these symptoms left me, and since then I have felt well."

Plenty more proof like this from Janesville people. Call at the People's drug store and ask what their customers report.

IF A RENTER—

Buy in St. Croix county, and improve your own farm.

If you have a small, high priced farm, sell and buy in St. Croix county two acres for one, and on the same capital double your income.

If you have a mortgage, quit paying interest; sell and buy a farm here with your equity.

If you have sons, and a small farm, sell and with the same money buy there two acres of equal land for one, and give the boys a start.

If you have a rough farm, hard to work, sell and for the same money or less, buy a good farm and take it easy.

We have a large list of farms in St. Croix county; no better land lays out doors for the money.

If you want a free homestead in North Dakota, call and let us tell you about it.

We are offering some of the finest bargains in modern homes in the city, at prices that will interest you.

Also have a large list of fine lots for building purposes. These lots all lay in good, desirable location, near the street cars, and can be bought on easy terms.

If you are looking for anything in our line, call and talk it over with us; we have many good bargains that will interest you.

MORTUARY MATTERS

Edward Davies
The last sad rites over the remains of the late Edward Davies were performed yesterday by Rev. H. C. Boister. The services were from the home at two o'clock. Floral offerings were profuse and beautiful. The pallbearers were Charles Conrad, James A. Fathers, J. Fred Hutchinson, and Edward Connell. Burial was in Oak Hill cemetery.

WE KEEP THE QUALITY UP

Everything New and Up to Date in Curtaindom is Here.

There is not a curtain want that we cannot supply. Never before were we so prepared to meet your requirements. The volume of our business is so large, our trade extending over such a wide territory, that while we keep our stock very complete at all times, it keeps us busy ordering new styles as they appear in the market. You will always find us a little in advance of the procession.

NOTTINGHAM CURTAINS

Never before did we offer such striking and astounding values in these durable curtains, twenty designs in pretty floral, scroll with insertion, and antique lace patterns, overlooked corded edges, 3 1/2 yds. long, 54 inches wide, per pair, 95c. Handsome styles in Point de Esprit, Applique, floral Brussels, and Irish Point effects, at $2.50, $2 and $1.50. Better qualities including the newest imported colonial and cable nets of superior designs, per pair, $2.50 to $3.50.

RUFFLED NET CURTAINS

These pretty inexpensive curtains are more popular than ever. 64 styles to select from. Dainty patterns, prettily lace trimmed, good strong net, well made with two-inch hem and heading, remarkable values, $1.50, $1.25. Handsome styles with two-inch Honiton lace insertion and edge, others with elegant medallions and pretty applique patterns in white and Arabian, at $2.50, $2.25, $2, $1.75. A splendid line with two rows of wide lace insertion and beautiful lace edge in the new ribbon insertion effects, elaborate designs, $1, $3.50, $3 and $2.50.

NOVELTY CURTAINS

We have just received a large consignment of the newest imported novelties. These curtains are right up to the minute, nothing handsomer, nothing newer, nothing more fashionable. We mention a few:

The above styles we show at $1.25 to $4.50.

EDWARDIAN, an exquisite style with linen lace edge and plain guipure net center, others with hand-made battenberg edge and elaborate hand-made corners, in white and Arabian, at $6, $5, $4.50, $4, and $3.50.

POINT LE REVE, handsome applique designs, with the new applique edge, very beautiful, a luxurious curtain, must be seen to be appreciated. We show it in many styles, white and Arabian, at $6, $4.50, $5, $4.50, and $4.

MOTIFANY, a rich curtain with elegant lace and insertion and edge, and exquisite hand-made motifs, strong, durable and stylish, 3 yards long, 45 to 50 inches wide, at $3.50, $4, $4.50, to $7.50.

POINT DE LUX, a new Parisian novelty with handsome corded applique insertion and edge of bow knots and many other designs, a rich curtain in white and Arabian, also Arabian net with red and black applique, can be used in dining-room, library or parlor, at $7.50, $6.50, $5.50, $5, and $4.50.

Other new novelties are Du Barry, Gibsonian, Alexandrian, Fil-de-Fer, Colonial, and Louis XV.

ARABIAN CURTAINS in every conceivable style, heavily corded, handsome borders, designs, rich scroll, Renaissance and the new empire insertion patterns, $2.50 to $20.

IRISH POINT CURTAINS, new up-to-date imported designs, handsome border patterns, and rich colonial styles with small empire figure, a radical departure from the usual Irish Point patterns, large variety, $5 to $15.

BRUSSELS CURTAINS — The curtains come in new dainty, artistic designs, giving a beautiful soft tone to any room in which they are hung. Lovely floral and scroll patterns in all styles and qualities, $4.50 to $25.

BONNE FEMMES, white, ivory, and Arabian, handsome medallions of hand-made battenberg, and many others in rich and novel effects, $2.50 to $22.

This is our No. 747, a ruffled net curtain, trimmed with the imitation cluny lace and insertion, exceedingly well made of fine grade imported bobinet, has two-inch hem and heading. As dainty and effective drapery, can be arranged in various ways to produce artistic effects. Each curtain 3 yards long, 49 inches wide, per pair, $2.50.

Of Curtain Materials by the Yard, our showing is a most complete one. Leading things in Curtain Nets are Colonial, Brussels, Guipure, Cable, Bobinet, and Point de Esprit.

OF CURTAIN MUSLINS, an immense line of white Swiss, beautiful colored muslins, new madras muslins, and fancy striped muslins. Our line of colored madras by the yard is an imposing one, and we have color combinations to harmonize with the furnishings in any room.
